In many cases, the violence expressed itself years after combat. I was going to be his best man. The tagline reads, "On every street in every city in this country there's a nobody who dreams of being a somebody. Sounds awful, doesn't it? About took the MoD to court and they lost their class action, but many of them won their cases on an individual basis. Four months after he signed his discharge papers, he accepted a lift in a van from an acquaintance. Imagine how you cope with that?
